The collage consists of 30 individual photographs. The top row shows students walking on a path, posing in a field, and standing near a building. The second row features a student jumping, a group of students, a close-up of a smiling girl, and students sitting on a bench. The third row includes a close-up of a girl's face, students working at a table, a group of students in a field, and students posing with a sign. The fourth row shows students playing basketball, a group of students, a student walking, and two girls. The fifth row depicts students working at a table, students sitting at a long table, a student looking at a phone, and a close-up of a girl's face. The sixth row features a close-up of a boy's face, students playing in a parking lot, a mountain landscape, and students working at a table. The seventh row shows a student working, a mountain landscape, a road through a valley, and a close-up of a boy's face. The bottom row includes a boy smiling, students at a long table, students at a long table, and two boys sitting at a table.

A large collage of 40 photographs documenting a youth exchange program in a mountainous region. The photos show participants in various settings: outdoor activities in rain gear, indoor group meetings, meals in a kitchen, and relaxation in a dormitory. A man with a beard and a woman with a headband are featured prominently in the center. The collage is arranged in a grid-like fashion, with some photos being larger than others, creating a dynamic visual narrative of the experience. The overall tone is positive and captures the essence of a shared adventure and community building.

A large collage of 30 photographs documenting a school trip to a Swiss farm. The images show students engaged in various activities: eating cake, looking at a smartphone, walking through a field, sitting in a wooden cart, interacting with farm animals like chickens, a pig, and a horse, and posing for group photos in front of a map of the region. The students are wearing blue and red jackets, and the setting is a rustic wooden building with a thatched roof.
